Eclipses

There will be five eclipses this year, three of the Sun, and two of the Moon, as follows:

I. Total of the Moon March 22, partially visible in the U. S., the moon setting with the eclipse on in the Eastern states.

II. Partial of the Sun April 6, visible in Alaska, Washington, Oregon and in California as far south as lat. 36° or the southern part of the county of Monterey.

III. Partial of the Sun Aug. 31, invisible in the U. S.

IV. Total of the Moon Sept. 15, the Moon setting as the eclipse begins in the Eastern states.

V. Partial of the Sun Sept. 30, invisible in the U. S.

PLANETS BRIGHTEST, ETC.

MERCURY will be brightest: Jan. 1-3 and Dec. 5-10 as a morn. star; also March 2-7 and Nov. 5-10 as an eve. star; practically invisible at all other times.

VENUS will be brightest as an eve. star March 17-20 and again as a morn. star May 25-31, being an eve. star until April 24, at which time, and for some days before and after that date, she will be invisible. After April 24, she will be a morn. star to the end of the year when she will be so near the Sun as to be quite invisible.

MARS will not attain his greatest degree of brilliancy usually possible this year, but will be nearly so at the close of the year, being best seen as an All-Night (nearly) star the latter part of Dec. He will be exclusively a morn. star until about the first of Oct. when he will begin to shine in the evening hours also.

JUPITER will be a morn. star until April 6 when he begins to shine in the eve. hours also; brightest and an All-Night star the latter part of June and early part of July.

SATURN will shine in both morn. and eve. hours until middle of Feb. after which he will be an eve. star to the last of May.

URANUS will be brightest the last half of July

NEPTUNE will be brightest in January.

Phila.

spent a very quiet day. dined at White's. My vacation is over and God willing I go back to my work. I have been fired to greater efforts there during these days. My ideal is so very high and far away but I believe I will attain it. An unsettling has come to me so that my spirit was driven out of its contentment to face a new condition. So goes life —

Wea. Clear THURSDAY 2 Ther. +57

left Ph. 9:04 a.m. arr. Pr. 10:15 a.m. coll. stu. dined at White's. I was very glad to be there for I did not want to go to Common's tonight. I feel rather happy to be here. It is a sort of happiness that is a little mournful. I could be happy here if I could surround myself with a lot of books and not have any duties outside. The high & lonely tower to think in. —

Wea. Cloudy FRI. JAN. 3, 1913 Ther. + 41

ch. coll. stu. Hall and rd.$^{\text{D.V.}}$ in even. I am back at the mill again. Last night I read over the diaries of the past and was moved to laugh at most that they contained. I have written all in dead earnest at the time. I should think God would be moved to laugh at mankind so often. We are so grasping for vanities +
